You cannot have a medical appointment or fitness test if your BMI (or body fat percentage) is outside the acceptable range.	Green	Yellow

Section 3 – Role Considerations

Before committing to the application process, and a career as a Police Officer, here are some aspects of the role that you are strongly advised to consider:

Section 3 Questions	Yes	No
Where you will serve and your accommodation Do you live within 30 miles of the station to which you wish to be posted? Are you ready to be very flexible regarding your work location to fulfil your obligations as a police officer? The accommodation in which you live has to be approved by Thames Valley Police. Generally speaking it must be within 30 miles (as the crow flies) of your place of duty. If you wish to change your address from that which was approved at the time of your appointment or subsequently, you must also seek permission. Only after permission has been granted should officers proceed to contractual stages. Remember, if this is not done you could be committing an offence under the Misconduct Code.	Green	Yellow
Academic commitment Both the DHEP and PCDA routes of entry will require significant commitment to the academic element of the qualifications. Are you willing and able to commit to ensure the academic demands and deadlines are met.	Green	Yellow

Section 3 Questions continued	Yes	No
Effect on private life Being a police officer means that sometimes, in your day-to-day private life, you have to put yourself on duty and take appropriate actions even when you are off duty. Are you prepared for this?
24 hours and 365 days a year Being a police officer will often involve you being out and about on foot patrol, in all weathers and at all hours of the day (shifts cover 24 hours a day, 365 days a year). You will be required to work shifts including night work, weekends and bank holidays. As a police officer, are you prepared to work shifts and unpredictable hours?
Standards of dress Would you be able to put aside your own sense of style and dress and comply with the police uniform and dress code? Please note that the police uniform and dress code makes allowances for items of religious dress.
Following rules Could you follow strict rules and authority to carry out the needs of the service?
Fitness The job can involve strenuous physical activity and it is important to maintain good fitness levels to ensure you can effectively protect yourself and others. Police officers are expected to take part in annual fitness tests where they must undertake the multi-stage fitness (bleep) test to at least Level 5, Shuttle 4. Do you feel confident about continually maintaining a high level of fitness throughout your career as a police officer?
Prepared to give evidence in court Are you prepared to stand up and provide evidence in court?
Using initiative Are you happy about working in a team, but also confident about taking the initiative when needed?
Impartiality Are you sure that no aspect of your life would impact on you being able to act with impartiality as a police officer?
Paperwork Are you able to complete paperwork and meticulously keep detailed records?
Dealing with difficult situations You will have to deal with circumstances or scenes of a difficult or distressing nature e.g. road traffic collisions, child cruelty, sudden deaths. Could you deal with traumatic and distressing situations with sensitivity and a level head?

Section 4 – Code of Ethics – Policing Principles

A Code of Ethics has been published by the College of Policing. Please refer to their website: www.college.police.uk

This code sets out the principles and standards of behaviour we expect to see from police professionals. It applies to every individual who works in policing, whether a warranted officer (including Special Constable), police staff, volunteer or someone contracted to work in a police force.

If you tick any red answers or have any questions or doubts over whether you can comply with the principles and standards set out below then you should not submit an application.
